Fulbright Hits Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., called the Civil Rights Bill "another attempt to humiliate a proud and sensitive section of our country" Wednesday.

He took the Senate floor to do his part in the Southern filibuster against the bill.

Southerners want the issue to be approached with "candor and fairness," Fulbright said, because "the implications are far-reaching and potentially beyond measure."

He said the bill should be sent to the Judiciary Committee, to be subjected to "searching study."

Fulbright said Little Rock has become a "model of progress" in integration, but the peaceful solution in Little Rock had attracted little national attention.

The Civil Rights Bill would upset this progress by attempting "unduly rapid change," Fulbright said.

Integration of public schools "is the law, regardless of what anyone thinks of it," he said. "Segregation is receding and will continue to and the South knows that full well."

Winter End Finds Trade Very Good

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The last day of winter finds business with less to complain about than usual. The three months have dealt more kindly than in some previous years with most businesses. And the prospects are better than average, too.

True, the weather has been more ornery this winter in many sections. Business will be only too glad to see its official end today.

But in general, the economy has risen above this and put on more muscle. Manufacturing output has gained. Retail sales are nicely above a year ago.

Often in February commodity prices ease. But last month and this have seen many rises, particularly for materials used in industry. And price increases in some consumer commodities, if painful to the housewife, at least are giving producer nations, for the first time in several years, more money with which to buy the goods that American producers can turn out. They might even need less foreign aid, too.

Winter's winds haven't chilled the confidence of the American consumer in his assessment of good times ahead. Pollsters say their buying intentions are high and their expectation of prosperous times near peak levels.

The final days of winter have seen the federal income tax cut blossom in larger take-home pay. This helped boost confidence in better days ahead.

What happens when many taxpayers find they have to make larger settlement payments to the Internal Revenue Service because the new withholding rates didn't take out enough is something else again.

This winter also put a number of foreign problems in the deep chill, however temporarily. Sparring for a new round of Continued on Page Six

Rocket Fails to Orbit Due to 3rd Stage

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An Explorer scientific satellite failed to orbit today because of trouble with the third stage of the Delta booster rocket.

The satellite was to have made the most extensive study yet of the earth's ionosphere and was to serve as a tracking target for intense laser light beams flashed from the ground.

The Delta, blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 6:14 a.m. (EST). Two hours later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported tracking stations had lost the satellite some 30 minutes after liftoff. Shortly afterward, another announcement said analysis of radio data showed the third stage burned for only 22 seconds instead of the intended 40.

Packed in the rocket's nose was a 120-pound payload intended to orbit more than 700 miles high to make the most extensive survey yet of the ionosphere, an electrically charged atmospheric region which reflects radio signals and makes possible long-range communications on earth.

More than 80 ground stations in 32 countries were to receive signals from explorer 20 in what a space agency spokesman termed "the first attempt to make a truly global measurement of the ionosphere."

Ban on Anti-Red Pictures Lifted

MEMPHIS (AP) — A ban on showing two anti-Communist movies in the Shelby County School System has been lifted. George Barnes, superintendent, said reports of distribution of right-wing literature at showings of the films had been investigated.

William T. Ross, Memphis labor leader, had charged that literature was distributed when the films were shown.

The ban was lifted "with the understanding that no printed materials will be distributed by anyone," Barnes said. Harding College at Searcy, Ark., produced the films.

This Old House Is Shaky But Young Folks Come to Rescue; It Lifts Its Head

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The big house with its 20 or more rooms was grand when it was built half a century ago and its owner gave it a splendid name: Stony Glen.

Years of neglect have reduced it to a haunted house for the very young, a target for the adolescent vandal, and a blight in the eyes of the city.

It looks vacant. Many of the windows are broken and the roofing is peeling off the once-fine gables.

But in the basement lives Miss Adelia Meneely Ashmore, an elderly woman who is almost a recluse.

The city Division of Public Health Engineering says the three-story house is unfit for human habitation and wants it cleaned up or Miss Ashmore out by next Monday.

She probably won't have to move, however, because her young friends are again coming to the rescue.

Every night for almost three summers, Paul Holmberg, 24, said he and three other young men have visited Miss Ashmore, guarding her from youths who heckled her, drove through the 13-acre yard, flashed lights, threw stones at the windows and made obscene phone calls.

The four were eventually joined by others, until about 25 had helped — three of them leaving the ranks of the hecklers.

They also cut the grass, cleaned the yard, painted and laid linoleum.

Miss Ashmore's brother, who lives in Branson, Mo., owns the house. He says as soon as he replaces windows, they are broken again by vandals. Miss Ashmore doesn't say much.

Last weekend when the city began pressing again that repairs be made, a group of teenagers began escorting groups through the house at a quarter apiece to raise money for the work.

War Plane Crashes Cost 2 Billions

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $1.8 billion in U.S. military planes have been lost or badly damaged in crashes over the past three years, it was learned today.

Pilot error and "material failure" were listed as the chief causes in more than 2,000 major military aircraft accidents in 1961-1963.

This data was contained in an analysis provided by the Defense Department. The Associated Press asked the report in connection with a running dispute over the relative reliability of missiles and manned aircraft.

Critics of U.S. missile systems have suggested, among other things, that there is much more assurance about the reliability of manned aircraft because of many years of experience and thousands and thousands of flights.

The Pentagon report said the Air Force suffered some 1,100 major accidents over the past three years causing damage totaling $1.1 billion. This averages out to about $1 million per accident.

During that same period more than 900 Navy and Marine Corps planes sustained major damage or were destroyed. The dollar estimate: something over $700 million.

The Army, which uses mainly helicopters and other relatively inexpensive aircraft, reported more than 200 major accidents with $27 million in damages.

In a rundown of causes, the Navy said human error was responsible for 60 per cent of all accidents to Navy and Marine Corps aircraft. Pilot error was blamed for 48 per cent and 12 per cent by "other persons."

Material failure accounted for 28 per cent, weather base facilities and miscellaneous causes the rest.

The Air Force said pilot error caused 31 per cent of its accidents, material failure 39 per cent, weather 1 per cent, maintenance 8 per cent, supervision 5 per cent and the remainder undetermined and miscellaneous.

Army statistics, which were not broken down, were reported to show crew error as a main cause of accidents, material failure as the second cause and maintenance and weather following in that order.

"All the services have vigorous accident prevention or safety programs," the Pentagon said. It claimed that Air Force and Navy accident rates have been on a declining curve since the 1920s.

Lost Key Clue to Murder

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The police search for the slayer of Martha Coates, a 24-year-old expectant mother, focused today on a missing door key.

Police have surmised the key may have been taken by the slayer, who strangled Mrs. Coates and then left her nude body in the bathtub of her apartment after trying to make the crime look like a suicide. The key was the only one to the apartment's front door.

Mrs. Coates, wife of 26-year-old stockbroker David Coates and daughter of an Arkansas banker, was slain Monday. An autopsy failed to determine exact time of death.

Police say they know of no motive for the slaying. They say there was no evidence of burglary or of forcible entry into the second floor apartment.

Coates told police his wife had few acquaintances in San Francisco and virtually none in the neighborhood. The couple moved into the apartment only 16 days before her death.

The victim was the daughter of J. J. White, president of the Helena National Bank of Helena, Ark. Her husband is the son of John E. Coates, United States commissioner in Little Rock.

Mortar Fire Breaks Out on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting flared up in troubled Cyprus early today with Greek Cypriots reported using mortars against a village of Turkish Cypriots 28 miles west of Nicosia.

It was the first fighting on the east Mediterranean island in a week.

A British army spokesman said firing started at the village of Ghaziveran, said to be surrounded by Greek Cypriots.

First reports said the trouble appeared to start over a road-block erected by the 500 Turkish Cypriot villagers as a protection.

Greek Cypriots objected to the road barriers which were astride the main road from Nicosia to the west of the island.

Turkish Cypriots in the all-Turkish town of Lefka, 5 miles southwest of Ghaziveran, threatened to attack Greek Cypriot villages near them if the Greek Cypriots did not cease firing by 10 a.m. But 15 minutes after that hour, there was no word that an attack had started from Lefka.

The British said Turkish Cypriot leaders were flown to Ghaziveran by helicopter. Fires were reported inside the village.

The British said firing continued through the morning as the Turks refused to surrender. The Greek Cypriots halted a truce patrol of British, Greek and Turkish Cypriot troops east of Ghaziveran.

Too Busy Keeping Pipe Lighted to Think About Cigarettes, Says Writer

By FRANK CAREY

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)
WASHINGTON (AP) — I've switched from cigarettes to pipe smoking. If the national production of matches and lighter fluid keeps steady, I think I might make it stick.

Keeping the pipe burning requires so much time and concentration I've scarcely given a thought to cigarettes.

Besides, a variety of compensations have come to light. For example:

There's a strong camaraderie among pipe smokers. They freely swap tobacco and pipe cleaners—and they welcome a novice as though he were a lodge brother. Generous with advice to neophytes, they even offer tips on pipe smoking by wearers of false teeth, which I have escaped so far.

I've regained a measure of youth in the eyes of my daughters, who say: "Dad, you look positively collegiate."

I had been a cigarette smoker for about 30 of my 54 years when the report of the surgeon general's committee finally prompted me to try to quit.

It had been reporting scientists' treatises on the health hazards of cigarette smoking for years without giving up cigarettes.

In fact, some of my heaviest smoking has been done while writing such stories.

When the words wouldn't come the way I wanted them to, it was comforting to light a cigarette and inhale deeply. Maybe, too, there was an aspect

Belli Fired as Ruby's Attorney

DALLAS (AP) — Convicted slayer Jack Ruby fired his head attorney, Melvin Belli, Wednesday night. And in a letter from his jail cell protesting Belli's bitter criticism of Dallas, Ruby said he had "tried to disengage" the lawyer as far back as Jan. 22.

A Dallas jury convicted Ruby Saturday of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, and sentenced him to death in the electric chair.

In angry reaction, Belli declared it a "kangaroo railroad" verdict by a jury that was "shoved down our throats." He called Dallas "a festering sore" and said, "Now we see the shame of Dallas in all its glory."

Foreign Aid Debut Meets Hostile Ears

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for $3.4 billion in foreign aid to help "build a world in which the weak can walk without fear."

In a special message to Congress which has become increasingly resistant to foreign aid in recent years, Johnson depicted the program as a bulwark against both war and "the ambitions of Communist imperialism."

He promised no waste in the operation and asked for permanent authority for U.S. arms aid abroad.

On Capitol Hill, there were prompt predictions of trouble ahead for the President's proposals.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said there were "still possibilities for real economics." Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana commended the President for the reduced requests but said "as always, the program will have to plow a difficult road."

Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles foreign aid, said he hoped Congress would approve less than $3 billion.

House committee hearings on the measure may open next week, but Senate hearings are not expected to begin until after the Easter recess.

Johnson laid the groundwork for his request—$1 billion in arms aid and $2.4 billion for economic assistance—with this summation:

"The proposals contained in this message express our self-interest at the same time that they proclaim our national ideals."

"We will be laying up a hard Continued on Page Six

Illinois U. Reprimands Professor

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — The president of the University of Illinois has reprimanded Prof. Revilo P. Oliver for an "unreasonable and vitriolic attack on the character and patriotism of President Kennedy."

But President David D. Henry, at a meeting of the school's board of trustees Wednesday, agreed with the board that the classics professor's attack on Kennedy in a John Birch publication was no cause for action against him.

Oliver, 54, wrote last month in "American Opinion" that Americans would cherish Kennedy's memory "with distaste." He suggested that Kennedy may have been assassinated because he had ceased to be useful to a Communist conspiracy.

The trustees refused to act against Oliver when they accepted a similar opinion from a faculty committee by a vote of 8-1.

Oliver continued his avocation of conservative endeavors in a lecture in Decatur, Ill., Wednesday night.

He declined to comment directly on the trustees' action, saying the issue was never a matter of academic freedom.

It was, he said, "a question of my right as a private citizen of the United States to state facts and draw conclusions."

Mexico Tour Is Over for deGaulle

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle ends his visit to Mexico today after three days of trying to project a new image of France as a big brother of Latin America.

The French president and his wife were to leave by plane at noon for the French Caribbean island of Guadeloupe. After visits to Cayenne, French Guiana, and Martinique, they return to Paris March 23.

In a joint communique signed with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos Wednesday night, De Gaulle pledged France would work at the U.N. Trade Conference in Geneva next week for "new formulas" that would pay Latin America better prices for its raw materials and manufactured products.

The two presidents also pledged to work for development of exchanges between Latin America and the Europe-

De Gaulle arrived Monday by jet to an enthusiastic welcome. Despite his 73 years, he carried out a schedule much younger men might have found exhausting.

Rights Issue Confronting Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The smoking-health scare appeared a forgotten item today in Louisville's cigarette industry.

P. Lorillard and Philip Morris reported plants on a five-day week while Brown and Williamson Tobacco Co. said its operation called for a nine-hour, or one-hour overtime schedule on a five-day week. American Tobacco Co. said it was operating full schedule on two brands and four-day weeks on two others.

Short schedules became effective after the government panel reported unfavorably on cigarette smoking though most tobacco company spokesmen discounted speculation that the report was involved in the cut-back.

HOW YOUNG GIRL CAN PARRY EAGER BOYS' FAST LINES
By DR. OYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm 16 and quite pretty. Boys like me, but I have a problem. The new dates I've had are very nice at first. On the second night or so, each one wants to start petting.

Everyone seems to give me reasons why I should, and they act convinced they're right.

Won't you help those my age by giving us the inside story on these boys' lines? I just can't act this way with a series of boys, but still, I want to be liked and asked out. —B. B.

Dear B. B.: When a young girl is attractive, she can pretty well pick and choose. What you can't choose, or tell in advance, is how any one of these boys will behave. Some will be completely charming. Others' first and only idea will be to take you out, drive you to a secluded lane, and pet.

Your answer: Take charge of the situation by using no more than your wits.

Men in general, and boys in particular, take their romantic advances with great seriousness. If you anticipate a line as it starts, you can stop a would-be wolf in his tracks by telling him you've heard that one before, and perhaps quoting him one line ahead.

This puts him at an immediate loss, and a male at any age, who's at a loss, is too confused to make advances. In fact, he's usually too confused to argue.

Most forward young men fall into types. You can recognize them by the line they use.

The first can be recognized this way: The young man makes advances which you politely but firmly resist. He then moves in with practiced sincerity to say, "Ever since I met you, I've thought we'd make a perfect couple, and this (that is, petting) is the only way to find out if we should marry."

The Lothario either hasn't the faintest intention of marriage, and would run if you mentioned it first, or he knows very little, and honestly believes that physical response must be established before any emotional response can happen.

He's naively putting the cart before the horse. In fact this "we should find out" line is so transparent you can see through it as soon as it's started.

Another line you'll hear comes when the boy thinks you haven't been around too much.

He doesn't stop at a kiss and when you protest the next step in his act begins. He drops away almost bored, shrugs, and observes, "I thought you were more sophisticated," or "grouchy." You're challenged. How to finesse it? With a slight smile, say, "Oh, yes, I really am unsophisticated."

Such an unexpected answer throws a young man quite off base. He's at a loss what to say.

There are different twists to this "I thought you were sophisticated" approach. For instance, there is, "I supposed I was dealing with a woman of the world," or "I really thought you were broad-minded." Spot these for what they are: alternate attempts to make a girl feel behind the times and inferior, thereby gaining victory for the young man.

Don't fall for them.

Aside from the protective warnings of your parents, let's see why most psychologists, psychiatrists, and premarital counselors are very much against petting. It's against your own future happiness. If a young girl abstains from promiscuous petting, she is much more likely to recognize the young man who will make the best possible husband.

Dear Dr. Brothers: When I'm faced with a difficult problem or have an important decision to make, I get tense. My friends keep telling me to calm down, to be cool, but I just can't seem to. I don't panic, but I can't pull a Perry Como either. How can I learn to? —G. L.

Dr. G. L.: Don't try to. According to some recent experiments, the best advice your friends could give you is to "get tense."

Sidney J. Blatt, a psychologist at Michael Reese Research Institute, has found in a series of

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

Charley Wells was a speedy blacksmith in his day, but he figures he's only about half as good now as he was at age 19.

At that age he fitted 86 horse shoes in 11 hours. The 63-year-old Rogers blacksmith figures that he can only do about 40 in that time now.

Wells says he has "inkered with the business of shoeing" since he was a kid.

"When I was a kid I used to shoe a horse for a dime a shoe during the lunch period so I'd have pocket money," he reminisced. He said he saw an ad in a paper the other day offering $24 a day for a blacksmith.

Wells set up shop in Rogers in 1949 and has been there ever since.

Shopping center business is developing so rapidly in Texarkana that clerks can't keep up with price markers.

Last week one store had a sale and the ad for one item read, "29 cents."

A customer with a similar item showed up at the checkout stand, but the clerk wasn't quite sure of the price so she sent a colleague to check the price.

He came back and reported, "No, that's not the 29 cent one. That's the 55 cent one. The 29 cent one is marked 33."

A traffic problem has developed, that the best problem-solvers are not necessarily the cool, calm, collected characters. Often the nervous fuss-budget is the real champ.

In these tests, those who solved problems fastest and most efficiently had reacted to the problem by having a faster pulse, faster breathing, and by perspiring freely.

Those who showed no agitation whatsoever did most poorly in the tests.

When Mrs. Hawkins went to tear down the nest she found the tiny wren had used a functional approach to its architecture. The nest was made of nails, pins and screws.

She found two pounds of metal in the nest — with 466 separate items, including screen door hooks, cotter pins, florist pins and what-have-you.

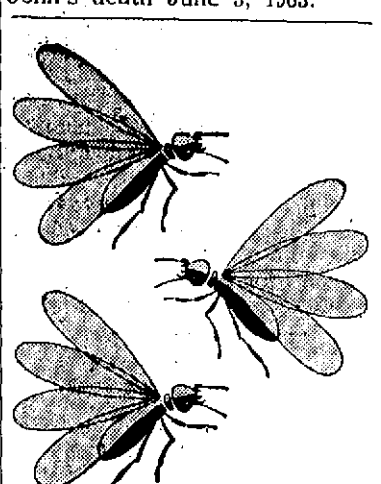

Late Pope Thought of Unity

ROME (AP)—The late Pope John XXIII, who called the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council, had begun thinking about the possibility of Christian unity when he was only 15. By the time he was 21 he even dreamed of someday becoming pontiff.

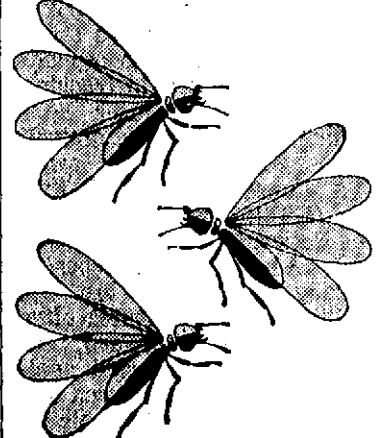

Those and other memories were contained in a collection of spiritual writings by Pope John which were put on sale today.

The late pontiff's intimate thoughts were compiled into a book under the title "Il Giornale Dell' Anima" — "The Journal of the Soul."

The book was compiled by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who was Pope John's private secretary from his election as pontiff Oct. 28, 1958, to John's death June 3, 1963.

Cosmopolitan Club Meets
Shamrocks lent a touch of old Ireland to the V. R. Herndon, Jr. home on March 17, when the Cosmopolitan Club met there with Mrs. Herndon and Mrs. McDowell Turner as co-hostesses.

Mrs. E. J. Whitman, president, had charge of the business meeting and appointed as a nominating committee Mrs. F. M. Horton, Mrs. Royce Smith, and Mrs. Perry Moses. Plans were tentatively made for a celebration of the club's 25th anniversary in May.

"Through the Valley of the Kwai" by Ernest Gordon was reviewed in a most enjoyable manner by Mrs. Henry Haynes. The 16 members were joined by two guests, Miss Esther Williams and Miss Nancy Brooks, who are doing their practice teaching in the Hope schools.

A sandwich and salad plate carried out the Irish motif and was served with coffee, tea, or iced drinks.

Mrs. Jackie White Honored With Shower

Mrs. Jackie White, a recent bride, was honored with a shower on Thursday, March 12 by Mrs. Claud Sutton, Miss Ann Sutton, and Mrs. Ray Lawrence of Nashville. The party, held in the Sutton home, was the scene of pretty decorations of spring flowers.

The guest of honor, wearing a frock of pale green, was presented a pink carnation corsage. Both her mother, Mrs. Vernon Avery, and Mrs. Dorsey White, mother of the bridegroom, were given white carnation corsages. The honoree also received many lovely gifts she can use in her home.

The 30 guests who attended the entertainment were each given a dish cloth on which she embroidered her name for the new bride. They were invited into the dining room, where the serving table was centered with candles and an arrangement of japonica. Similar blossoms were frozen into ice cubes which floated in the pink punch. Mrs. William Butler poured the punch, and iced cake squares decorated with wedding bells were also served.

Martha Hairston Circle Meets

The Martha Hairston Circle of the first Baptist Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. M. Rider. Mrs. E. S. Franklin led the opening prayer. The business meeting was presided over by the Circle Chairman, Mrs. George Young. Mrs. Gus Haynes, led the prayer for the missionaries who had birthdays on Monday.

Mrs. W. H. Gunter presented an interesting program on Christian Citizenship, others on the program were Mrs. Frank Ward and Mrs. Carlton King.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to the 12 members present.

Mrs. Hawthorne Entertains Bridge Club

A local Tuesday Bridge Club met with Mrs. Harry Hawthorne on March 17, and she used pretty red and white japonica as floral decoration. Mrs. Marie Hendrix was a club guest for the afternoon.

When scores were tallied, Mrs. R. T. White was high and Mrs. Syd McMath was second high. St. Patrick's Day candy, cookies, and coffee or cold drinks were served for refreshments.

Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. Joe Watkins was hostess for a meeting of her bridge club on Tuesday evening, March 17, and besides the club members, Mrs. W. C. Bruner, Jr. was a guest also. Easter decorations provided the proper atmosphere for the gathering.

Mrs. Lester Godwin, Jr. was high scorer, Mrs. Chris Petre was second high, and Mrs. Al Graves, Jr. won the game prize. Lemon pie was served with coffee at the conclusion of play.

Coming and Going

American Legionnaires B. C. Hollis and Fred Formby and Auxiliary members Mrs. Fred Formby and Mrs. Joe Jones went to a dinner meeting at the American Legion home in Texarkana Tuesday for the 45th birthday of the Legion.

Band Concert at Tabernacle 7 p.m. Sunday

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — The Evangel College concert band will present a concert at First Assembly of God Church, 322 North Main, at 7 p.m. Sunday, March 22, the Rev. B. J. Will-hit has announced.

Director of the concert band is Jesse Peterson, chairman of the Evangel College division of fine arts. He is college advisor for the Southwest Missouri Music Educators Association, and serves as Missouri state chairman for the National College Band Director Association.

Peterson earned his Master of Music degree at the State University of Iowa, and is currently working toward a doctoral degree at the University of Missouri, Kansas City chapter.

Associate director of the concert band and first trombonist is Joe M. Nicholson, also a member of the Evangel music faculty. He is a graduate of Texas Wesleyan College, and earned his Master of Music degree at North Texas State University.

The 31-piece concert band has appeared in musical programs throughout the United States.

This spring, for the second year, they will join with the college's concert choir in a dramatized musical production, "Living Sound and Song," which are composed for the two organizations. Last year the program was presented in Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.

between the two men. Their love for each other is undeniable. It does not appear to be an unnatural love, though Henry's shrewish queen so accuses.

Henry both loves and hates Becket for making him think. The church-state impasse is resolved when four knights murder the archbishop as he prays in his cathedral. But so great is the outrage that the king is required to do penance at Becket's tomb.

Two of England's most accomplished actors play the two towering roles, and their encounter will inevitably be termed a duel. Being supplied with the more flamboyant role, O'Toole will doubtless be proclaimed the winner.

Poverty War May Help ex-Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's economy drive put Ft. Chaffee, near Fort Smith, Ark., on the list of installations to be abandoned. But his war on poverty may revive it.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told a House Subcommittee Wednesday that abandoned military posts could be used to house job corps trainees.

If Chaffee is abandoned, it would be in line for a job corps site.

Chaffee is scheduled to be abandoned in June 1965.

Most of the 5,000 soldiers and $2 million payroll are expected to be lost when it closes.

'Becket' Gets Rave Review

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The relationship between Henry II of England and St. Thomas of Becket forms the basis for an epic new film, "Becket," starring Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole.

It is a fine, stirring movie, scrupulously written and directed, and acted in brilliant, flowing style by the two stars.

Hal Wallis produced "Becket" in England for Paramount, using an American writer, Edward Anhalt, to adapt the Jean Anouilh play, and a Britisher, Peter Glenville, to direct it.

History appears to have been little tampered with. Indeed, the facts need little embellishment.

Historians record that Henry and Thomas were fellow roisters, that the king appointed his friend chancellor and then archbishop of Canterbury, much against Becket's will. He feared their positions as heads of state and church would place them on collision course. He was right.

One variance with fact appears to be the portrayal of Becket as one of the conquered Saxons. Like Henry, he was a Norman.

"Becket" wisely avoids the "Ivanhoe" type of spectacle and concentrates on the relationship brought Mrs. Cox home.

Mrs. John Robins, Helena, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robins and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Robins.

Mrs. Jewel Moore had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Kenny McKee and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waggoner, all of Houston.

the United States and Panama. Johnson's remarks came less than 24 hours after the OAS mediation commission had announced the United States and Panama had agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations to seek a prompt solution of their conflicts over the Panama Canal.

Next move in the 10-week-old dispute is uncertain. Although the OAS General Commission can summon the hemisphere's foreign ministers to confer on the issue, such a step seems unlikely at least for the time being.

4 Survive NCAA Cage Tournament

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—UCLA ruled a slight favorite, Duke was conceded the experience, Michigan the manpower and Kansas State the darkhorse role today as four teams arrived in Kansas City for the NCAA basketball semifinals.

All four scheduled late afternoon loosening up drills in Municipal Auditorium as their last workouts before Friday night's semifinals. The title game will be played Saturday before a sell-out crowd of about 10,500 and a national television audience.

The semifinal pairings have Michigan vs. Duke in the first game and UCLA vs. Kansas State in the second.

Duke Coach Vic Bubas said he would close his workout to the press and public for about 20 minutes, while the others scheduled open sessions.

"There's not much else you can do now," Kansas State Coach Tex Winter said Wednesday. "If you aren't prepared now, forget it."

"We're as ready as we'll ever be," said John Wooden, coach of UCLA's top-ranked and unbeaten Bruins.

Only Michigan reported any physical ailments. Wolverine Coach Dave Strack said Sophomore backcourt ace Cazzie Russell still has some tenderness around an ankle injured against Purdue.

"But he's been resting it and should be able to go full speed Friday," Strack said. "It's not that serious."

None of the four teams ever has won the title and only Kansas State has been in a championship game—in 1951 when it lost to Kentucky.

Duke was third last year. All its starters played on that team. "The experience should be helpful," Bubas said. "They've been through this before and know what it's like. It should help us."

UCLA, which built its 28-0 record and No. 1 national rating on speed and passing, comes in with the smallest team. No Bruin starter is over 6-foot-5.

"We've learned to live with our lack of height," Wooden said. "We make up for it by quickness."

Michigan, No. 2 in the nation and the Big Ten co-champion with a 22-4 over-all record, makes the most of its physical strength in a powerful rebounding game.

"Rebounding is our forte," Strack said. "We believe that rebounding wins most ball games, and that's what we do best."

Duke, the nation's No. 3 team and the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, has a 25-4 mark and one of the country's top performers in backcourt man Jeff Mullins, who has a 24.4 scoring average.

"We're primarily a running team," Bubas said.

Kansas State, the Big Eight champ, is the only unranked team in the field but has a 22-5 record, including 13 straight. The Wildcats offer a good zone defense, built around 7-foot Roger Suttner.

Golfers Fire Up in Miami Meeting

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Firing started today in the $50,000 Dorland Open Golf Tournament and when it's all over Sunday any one of many entries might step up and collect the $7,500 first prize.

With Arnold Palmer, last year's record money winner suffering through a victory drought, the balance of power in the field of touring pros is the closest in the game's history.

When Bruce Devlin of Australia won the St. Petersburg Open last Sunday he became the 13th winner in a string of 13 tournaments dating back to the 1963 campaign.

Al Geiberger, Frank Beard and Rex Baxter won the final three tournaments last year.

This year it has been Paul Harney at Los Angeles, Art Wall Jr. at San Diego, Tony Lema in the Bing Crosby, Juan Rodriguez in the Lucky International, Tommy Jacobs at Palm Springs, Jack Nicklaus at Phoenix, Jack Cupit at Tucson, Mason Rudolph at New Orleans, Gary Player at Pensacola and Devlin at St. Petersburg.

Semi-Finals for N.Y.C. Tourney

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be "Happy" vs. "The Big I" tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation college basketball tournament as the NYU Violets tangle with the New Mexico Lobos. Army's upset-minded Cadets meet the Bradley Braves in the other semifinal game.

"Happy" is Harold Hairston, a 6-foot-7 ace rebounder and scorer from Winston-Salem, N.C. who has sparked the Violets to upset victories over Syracuse and DePaul in the NIT after a disappointing regular season.

"The Big I" is 6-8 Ira Harge from Detroit a similar top rebounder and scorer who has been called the key of the club that tied for the championship of the Western Athletic Conference and beat Drake in Tuesday's quarter-finals.

Their meeting in the first game of a doubleheader expected to draw a capacity 18,000-plus at Madison Square Garden overshadows the second game clash between Bradley and surprise Army. Bradley is a heavy favorite while NYU-New Mexico generally is regarded as a tossup.

Tonight's winners will meet for the championship in a nationally televised game at 4 p.m., EST Saturday afternoon after the losers play for third place.

Harge and his teammates, Claude Williams, Dick Ellis and Mike Lucero who starred in the victory over Drake likely will get an acid test against NYU.

Lou Rossini, the Violets coach, said he would like to see how the Lobos would fare if they fell behind, which they never did against Drake. He hopes his boys, Hairston, Barry Kramer and Stan McKenzie get an early lead to put the pressure on the visitors from Albuquerque.

Army is the sentimental favorite off its upset triumphs over St. Bonaventure and Duquesne, but Tates Locke, the Cadet coach, thinks Bradley is "the best team in the tournament."

Locke added, however, his boys "have matured and we have a chance" especially if sophomore Mike Silliman and Joe Kosciuszko play an inspired game like they did in the second half against Duquesne.

Bradley beat St. Joseph's of Philadelphia last Saturday in its only previous tournament game. The Braves, like New Mexico, drew a first round bye since they were seeded second and fourth, respectively. Top-seeded DePaul and third-seeded Duquesne have been eliminated.

Army Status Puzzling to Cassius Clay

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Cassius Clay claims he is "tuned in on the future," but he admittedly draws a blank when it comes to forecasting his status with the Army.

Amid reports he had again failed to pass the mental part of his draft examinations, the world heavyweight champion said Wednesday that he "had not been told, one way or the other."

Official word from the Army in Washington and Clay's draft board in Louisville was the same:

"The results have not been disclosed."

The 22-year-old champion failed to pass his first mental exam two months ago in Coral Gables, Fla., and was given a rematch last Friday in Louisville. The Washington Post reported he also flunked the second test, bringing negative responses from Clay, the Pentagon and the draft board.

With Army talk disposed of, Clay turned to other pressing matters: His next fight, business a new home, and his "religion"—the Black Muslims.

"If the commissions would let me I'd like to fight two out of three—Floyd Patterson, Doug Jones and Eddie Machen—on the same night," the youthful champion said.

"And maybe they'll let me. I'd have a better chance of losing my title and a lot of people want me to lose."

"They're against me because of my religion," the Black Muslims claim.

Hoak Plans Another Try for Phils

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Don Hoak wavered on the brink of retirement during the long winter months before he decided to give it one more try with the Philadelphia Phillies.

"I thought maybe I could make up something to the Phils for getting me in a trade last year from Pittsburgh and to the others who had faith in me," said the veteran third baseman today.

Hoak says his future as a ball player depends on "No. 4." That is the number of Gene Mauch manager of the Phils.

"Don will get a chance to pull himself out of a bad year," said Mauch. "He will get his chance right down here in Florida."

Hoak a fixture at third base for four years including the pennant club of 1960 wants to play. "I'm the youngest 'old' player in the league," said the 36-year-old Phil. "I admit I have lost a step or two. I can't run like I used to. Who can? I played a long time."

"Last year my hitting was just terrible until the last month. For the first few weeks I played every day but I couldn't get myself untracked. I've had bad starts before but have played myself out of it. Gene knew he had a good shot at finishing high so I hit the bench. I was the worst player in the league."

"I think I can help this club. I always said I never would hang around and be in anybody's way and become a baseball bum. I don't have to and I won't."

"It is all up to No. 4. Whatever he decides to do. I respect his judgment although I don't always agree with him. I knew he was planning on giving the kid (Richie Allen) a shot at third. He had a fine record in the minors and he certainly deserves a chance."

Hoak always has been known as a battler. That is why he is known as "Tiger" to his mates. Although he slumped to .231 compared to his .285 lifetime average it might be wise to hold off on the obituary. Even as a part time player the Tiger may be the spark the Phils need.

The entire area of Crittenden County is below 250 feet in elevation—all Mississippi delta country.

periority of the Negro and advocate separation of the races. Clay is not as militant on the subject as leaders of the movement, but he has adopted a new name—Muhammad Ali—and he is increasingly metaphysical in his conversation.

"I'm the first one to predict. I'm tuned in on the future," he said. "I can see in a person's mind what he's thinking. That's because I walk with God and talk with God."

On more mundane matters, Clay talked of moving from Louisville to either New York or Chicago—"I need a big city; of opening an office for 'a national youth fan club; of business with a large talent agency; and taxes."

Girl Golfers Gather at Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—According to favorite Kathy Whitworth, anyone of 15 can win the Women's Western Open starting today with a talented field of 100 lady golfers.

Mickey Wright of Dallas, two-time winner and defending champion, fractured her ankle and could not participate. This leaves the title up for grabs by such veterans as Miss Whitworth, Patty Berg, Louise Suggs and a score of the country's top amateurs.

"It's a good golf course," said Miss Whitworth after touring the hilly 6,543 yard par-75 course for the first time. "It's got some awful holes. You've got to be straight, but above all, you've got to be long."

"My chances?" said the tall blonde. "It's really much too early to tell. . . . Anyone of 15 could win it."

The amateur favorites include Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., winner of USGA and British amateur titles, and Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., winner of four amateur crowns in 1963.

Winter End

tariff negotiations, especially with an increasingly protection-minded Europe, is just getting under way.

The new competition may startle some Americans who may have become complacent because U.S. exports have managed to stay nicely ahead of imports, and because an international banking pool has kept the price of gold stable and its flow to other nations at a minimum.

But the last days of winter saw the Soviets resuming their sale of gold in European money markets for the first time this year. This supply helps the West stabilize its own gold reserves. The Soviet Union is believed to be selling to get the money it needs to meet Canadian wheat shipments as soon as winter's grip on the St. Lawrence River is relaxed.

The cold and blustery months also did less than usual damage to construction plans. Total construction contract awards in January were 20 per cent higher than a year ago. Housing starts were at a high level that month. They slipped slightly in February but were still 19 per cent above a year ago.

Business capital spending plans perked up smartly in the waning weeks of winter. This is one of the things that makes the steel industry expect its current high level of activity will continue at least until summer.

Tyranny Is Charged in Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said today many Americans "are severely handicapped by their race or their religion" but that the civil rights bill seeks a crude "through the use of tyrannical means."

Smathers, in a speech prepared for the Senate debate, stated his opposition to the bill and said it poses "a terrible dilemma . . . for one who believes deeply in all the implications of freedom and who believes in the human dignity of every American."

"This dilemma is resolved, in the final analysis, I believe, by the fact that the civil rights act attempts to gain one man's freedom by depriving another man of his," he said, "because it clenches the heavy hand of the federal government into a fist which crushes our tottering federal system, and because, in the name of human rights, it permits the exercise of unrestricted power by too few people and with too few assurances that its exercise will be fair."

Smathers was to take the floor in the 10th day of the Senate debate on a preliminary stage of the civil rights fight—the motion to take up the House-passed bill.

He is the 15th southerner to make a formal speech out of the 19 banded together in the fight against the bitterly controversial measure.

Military Bill Helps Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed by voice vote Wednesday a $1.6 million bill to authorize military construction including $690,000 in Arkansas.

The bill authorizes $268,000 for construction of maintenance and production facilities, troop housing and community facilities at Blytheville Air Force Base.

It provides $422,000 to Little Rock Air Force Base for construction of troop housing.

vest of woe for us and our children if we shrink from the task of grappling in the world community with poverty and ignorance.

"These are the grim recruiting sergeants of communism. They flourish wherever we falter. If we default on our obligations, communism will expand its ambitions."

"That is the stern equation which dominates our age, and from which there can be no escape in logic or in honor."

Johnson disclosed in the long-awaited message that he has decided against any major shake-up in the overseas assistance program. He had appointed a special committee to study reorganization possibilities.

Instead Johnson concentrated on a number of streamlining activities which he said would boost efficiency of the program help U.S. friends abroad get off the dole and at the same time "aid in frustrating the ambitions of Communist imperialism" for world domination.

Johnson noted the $3.4 billion for the fiscal year starting next July 1 is $1.5 billion below President John F. Kennedy's original foreign aid request a year ago. Congress chopped off about $1.5 billion after a stiff fight.

Even with Johnson's reduced figure, the overseas assistance program is expected to run into more trouble in Congress this year. Johnson appeared to anticipate critics in outlining what he termed "prudent and responsible programs."

Hoffa Asks Support of Rank, File

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Convicted Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa is seeking to quell any budding revolt in his giant union by personal appeals to its 1.7 million members.

His approach, in a previously unpublished letter, is that he will eventually upset his eight-year federal jury tampering conviction—and that if he does not, all Teamsters would have as much to lose as he does.

Hoffa's letter to all Teamsters' officials and members seeks to identify the unions' interests with his own in his long battle against Justice Department efforts to put him behind bars.

Hoffa, 51, told his members: "I have never backed away from a fight in my life. In all my 32 years in the labor movement, I have consistently refused to 'conform' as a price of peace, for the simple reason that I have always known that the price would come out of the pockets of the rank and file. I was elected to represent."

Hoffa apparently was not retreating to the thousands of dollars in legal fees piled up on his trial at Chattanooga, Tenn., and numerous previous court battles.

Rather, the reference appeared to be an attempt to persuade Teamsters' members no one can represent them better than he at the bargaining table, or run the huge union as well as he has in the past seven years as its president.

There has been no open move among high-ranking Teamsters to dump Hoffa, but the labor chieftain is clearly worried and eager for reassurance from his members.

"The business of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will be conducted as usual. Whenever possible, I will be in the field talking with you, the rank and file, finding out first-hand what your problems are, and working with you to come up with solutions," Hoffa's letter said.

Not Only No Gas—He Had No Tank

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The rented sedan driven by Guy V. Whitner, Jr., of Newberry, S.C., stalled in the driveway of a Miami Beach hotel.

Whitner checked the gas gauge. Empty! Hotel doorman William Benway called a service station to deliver some gasoline then opened the small door that hides the gas cap—and stared in disbelief.

No gas tank. Police picked up the tank 18 blocks and nine traffic lights away.

"I can't understand how the car ran that far without a tank," said Benway.

Morrilton Hit by a Big Fire

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Fire caused an estimated $75,000 to $100,000 damage to four businesses here Wednesday night.

It burned out of control for several hours.

Viet Nam, Cambodia Will Talk

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos have begun negotiations for resumption of diplomatic relations, Premier Nguyen Khanh said today.

Other sources said Khanh met delegations from Cambodia and Laos in the mountain resort of Dalat over the weekend to arrange further negotiations.

Khanh told a news conference he is ready to meet with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, "at any time, anywhere, except in a Communist country."

"With respect to Laos," Khanh continued, "we are ready to send a representative to Vientiane as soon as possible. We want to normalize diplomatic relations there. We are not like Ngo Dinh Diem, who refused to maintain diplomatic relations with Laos after they recognized North Viet Nam. We are ready to receive the ambassador of Laos in Saigon."

The U.S. government has long urged normal diplomatic relations between Thailand, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and Laos. A U.S. spokesman said today his government "very definitely supports" the negotiations.

Cambodia broke relations with South Viet Nam last August after Diem's police raided Buddhist pagodas in Saigon.

Khanh said the talks with Cambodia would cover current frontier problems, presumably including infiltration of Viet Cong units into South Viet Nam through Cambodia. The discussions also will cover the status of islands in the South China Sea claimed by both Cambodia and Viet Nam.

Rundown on Political Situation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are today's political developments, in brief:

Goldwater—Continuing his campaign for California's June 2 Republican presidential primary, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater said he would not change his conservative views to get votes. In a speech at the Chico Fair Grounds Tuesday night, Goldwater said President Johnson is "so indebted to the left-wing element I don't see how he can get away from it." The senator headed today for Lakeport, Auburn and Stockton.

Wallace—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace told his supporters in Wisconsin they should expect to be "smeared" by the "liberals and the left-wing press." The segregationist governor opened his campaign in the state's April 7 Democratic presidential primary Tuesday in Appleton where he said the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, a Republican, had accurately forecast communism's threat to the United States.

Kennedy—Atty. Gen. Robert R. Kennedy said in Scranton, Pa., he was undecided whether to accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination if asked to run by President Johnson. "I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do," he said. Kennedy received a rousing welcome in Scranton, where he addressed a St. Patrick's Day dinner and made several public appearances.

Highlights in History of Today

Today in History
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, March 19, 1964. There are 287 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1917, the Supreme Court upheld the eight-hour day on the railroads. In the face of a threatened strike and the crisis with Germany, the court voted 5-4 to uphold the constitutionality of the act — a milestone in U.U. labor legislation.

On this date: In 1628, the English founded Massachusetts Colony.

In 1898, the battleship Oregon began its historic voyage around Cape Horn.

In 1920, the Senate refused to ratify the treaty calling for membership in the League of Nations, setting the tone for a decade of isolationist policy.

In 1941, the United States and Canada signed the pact to develop the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway.

In 1945, the government froze retail prices on clothing, textiles, furniture and household furnishing.

Ten years ago—The Warsaw Radio reported a complete takeover of the Communist Government of Poland.

Five years ago — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived in Washington for talks and called for firmness and reasonableness in dealing with the Russian government.

One year ago—President Kennedy and the presidents of six Central American states signed the Declaration of San Jose in Costa Rica on political and economic relationships.

DeGaulle Civillian in Mexico

By MORRIS W. OSENBERG

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle turned civilian Tuesday, but continued to impress his Mexican hosts.

The French chief of state donned a double-breasted charcoal gray suit in place of the khaki general's uniform he wore on arrival Monday.

Mexicans shouted and cheered just the same as he rushed through a packed schedule that included an address to the joint session of Congress.

De Gaulle launched his second day here with an unscheduled visit to a home trade fair, the largest of its kind ever held in Mexico. He looked over several exhibits and mingled with the crowd.

Accompanied by Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, he continued down the Paseo de la Reforma — much like Paris' Champs Elysees — to the monument to independence called "The Angel." A large crowd watched as he laid a wreath at the base.

De Gaulle broke through a protective line of soldiers to shake hands with a dozen or more Mexicans. He was virtually mobbed and security agents had to come to his rescue.

Mrs. de Gaulle accompanied Mexico's First Lady, Mrs. Adolfo Lopez Mateos, to a welfare project which provides food for hundreds of thousands of students.

Mexican television concentrated on this visit instead of the one of De Gaulle to the

Puts Civil Service Pay Hike First

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has urged Congress to vote for a federal pay raise bill—even if its members have to postpone their own $10,000 boost to do so.

The House defeated a $545-million all-inclusive pay bill last week when opponents forced a roll-call vote. Many congressmen were reluctant to go on record during an election year in favor of a bill that included a $10,000 raise for themselves.

Johnson, in letters Tuesday to House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Senate President Pro Tem Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., said that "if congressmen feel they should postpone increasing their salaries until next year, even though they are most deserving of an increase in pay, there is no reason to postpone equitable and just action for others who serve the government and the nation."

The defeated bill included raises for 1.7 million employees in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the federal government. A new measure with such pay boosts but leaving out members of Congress was introduced Monday.

Johnson said that if Congress does not enact the pay bill, it would "impair my efforts to achieve true economy in government."

"It is false economy," the President wrote, "to offer salaries that will attract the mediocre but repel the talented."

A pay bill without the provision for an increase in congressional salaries likely would stand a good chance of passage. Johnson's letter was read to the House and referred to the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which had written the original bill.

social security center.

De Gaulle toured an elaborate housing project and then returned to Los Pinos, the Mexican presidential residency where he is staying, for a brief rest.

His day also included another — his second — round of private talks with President Lopez Mateos and a night time reception at an ancient palace given by Tello.

De Gaulle, being in Mexico, completely overshadowed President Johnson in the Mexican press.

Johnson's address to the Organization of American States in Washington regarding American policies in Latin America received inside play while De Gaulle dominated front pages. The French leader's balcony appearance here Monday was the No. 1 news story in Buenos Aires, 4,600 miles away.

Pictures of De Gaulle were featured on the front pages of Rio De Janeiro newspapers.

Hopeful for Grain-Cotton Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. E. C. Gathings, D - Ark., says sponsors of the wheat - cotton bill hope to get the measure sent directly to the floor of the House, perhaps next week.

Gathings said if the bill can be passed by April 1 it will apply to the 1964 cotton crop.

The House passed a cotton bill, but the Senate struck out House provisions and inserted what amounts to a new cotton-wheat bill. It still carries the House number.

The Senate-passed bill now in the House Rules Committee can be sent to the floor for consideration or to a joint House-Senate conference.

If the House accepts the Senate version, the bill would go directly to the White House.

Gathings, a House Agriculture Committee member, is optimistic, but concerned that the measure might be delayed by the Easter recess of the House.

Under the bill, which would apply to the 1964 and 1965 crops, the support price for cotton would drop to 30 cents a pound for 1964, compared to 32.47 for 1963.

However, farmers who agree to reduce acreage and plant within a domestic allotment, (about two thirds of their total allotment), would be given an additional support price of probably 3 1/2 cents a pound.

Farmers with allotments of 15 acres or less could plant the entire allotment at the higher support price. Under some conditions farmers desiring to do so might plant more than their allotments, but the production of the excess acreage would be sold at world prices.

Also the bill would provide for a domestic subsidy which would in effect allow American textile mills to buy cotton at the world price of around 24 cents, rather than at the higher support price.

Arkansas farmers had the third largest percentage increase in the nation in revenue from sales of crops and livestock last year.

They took in $862,761,000, an increase of 11 per cent over the 1962 total of $775,058,000.

The percentage increase was topped only by Louisiana's 14 per cent and Mississippi's 13 per cent increases.

Of the Arkansas total $562,008,000 was from sale of crops, and $300,753,000 was from sale of livestock and livestock products.

Arkansans also received government payments of $14,511,000, a drop from the 1962 total of $16,490,000.

The realized net income per farm in the state rose 23 per cent from $3,583 in 1962 to $4,400 last year. Only Mississippi's 25 per cent gain was higher.

NEA Hears Controversy at Conway

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A National Education 14PM/AT committee continued taking testimony today in a Conway school controversy.

Richard Morgan, legal counsel for the Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities, an arm of the NEA, said the commission committee was interviewing only those who have direct knowledge of the controversy.

The Conway School Board bought the contract of Supt. Hays Gibson last week. The board and Gibson have been at odds for some time and the Arkansas Education Association asked for the NEA investigation.

The board at first voted not to renew the contracts of Gibson and some school principals.

Cold Wave Sweeps the East Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wave of late winter cold air which surged from Canada into the heart of the nation fanned out toward the East Coast today, plummeting temperatures toward the zero mark.

Many readings ranging from zero to 10 above were reported. The AEA contends that the board "arbitrarily and in violation of established board policies" declined consider renewal of contacts.

In the Midwest and New England.

The coldest was International Falls, Minn., where the mercury dropped to —5 just two days before the official start of spring.

Spring officially arrives at 9:10 a.m. EST Friday. Temperatures were below freezing from the Dakotas, northwestern Nebraska and northern Missouri eastward through the central and northern Appalachians.

Maine was the icebox in New England, with Millinocket reporting 6 above and Houlton 8. Cold waves also struck western Maryland, northwestern Virginia and West Virginia.

Snow flurries occurred along the southern and eastern shores of the Great Lakes and from the upper Ohio Valley into New England. In New York State, snow slowed traffic in Binghamton, Rochester and Syracuse.

One inch of new snow in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., gave that community 19 inches on the ground.

Pay Raise Urged for U.S. Staffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today to increase pay of government employees.

Unless such legislation is enacted, he said, two million federal workers will be deprived of "fair and reasonable pay adjustments," and it will be more difficult to recruit and retain top-flight men and women.

In identical letters to Speaker John W. McCormack and Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., president pro tem of the Senate, Johnson did not specify how much the pay levels of government employees should be increased.

He made it clear that if members of Congress feel they should delay increasing their salaries until next year, "even though they are most deserving of an increase in pay," he wanted pay raises this election year for others on the federal payroll.

The House last week defeated a bill to increase top federal salaries, including those of members of Congress, by $10,000 a year.

A bill providing a similar pay raise for federal employees, leaving out members of Congress, was introduced Monday.

Johnson said the money needed to increase federal salaries is included in his budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Youth Job Program Is Given Boost

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus gave a strong endorsement today to proposals for creation of a federal youth employment program.

But the governor was less warm toward President Johnson's latest proposal for a special program for youths, who are rejected by the draft.

Bull Wins But Owner Loses $300

ATLANTA (AP) — The bull won but his owner lost.

The Georgia Court of Appeals upheld Tuesday a $300 damage award by a Hall County jury to Jewell Hulsey.

Hulsey was driving along U.S. 129 north of Gainesville, Ga., when he came upon a bull in the road.

The bull walked straight toward his truck, Hulsey said, while he tried unsuccessfully to brake to a halt. After the collision, the bull got up and was led back to a pasture. The truck was virtually demolished.

Hulsey sued the bull's owner, G.W. Law, for damages, charging negligence in not maintaining adequate fences.

Reject Split of Arms and Foreign Aid

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's plans to give the controversial foreign aid bill a new look were shelved after a quiet little White House dinner about six weeks ago, a high source reports.

The main decision involved whether to split the economic aid program from the military aid program and present them to Congress separately. The idea was to change the image of the program and make it more palatable to congressmen and voters.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara led off the after-dinner discussion by stating the case for making military aid separate a source who was present said.

He was followed by others who favored this approach, among them Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The case for splitting economic and military aid proceeded smoothly as though the decision were "on the rails," the source said, until the President called on Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"Mr. President, if you want to lose the foreign aid bill on the floor of the House, then fragment it," Morgan told Johnson.

Morgan then repeated his long-held views that the military assistance portion of the foreign aid bill is the only thing that gets it through Congress each year, and that to separate the two sections would be an open invitation to the program's foes to decimate the economic aid, or "foreign aid giveaway," as they call it.

Other important voices backed Morgan's view, the source said.

President Johnson's foreign aid message is due to arrive on Capitol Hill Thursday, and he is expected to ask for about $3.4 billion in one package for the program this year. President Kennedy asked for $4.5 billion last year, but the House slashed it to $3 billion.

should encompass all youths with provisions for fitting in the draft rejections," Faubus said. "I would cooperate with any administration in support of such a program," he said.

Faubus said he had received from Washington various information about the proposed federal programs and he had forwarded this information to administrators in the Welfare, Employment Security and Education departments so they could be ready to implement any program which may be put into effect.

Wolf Bayou Dam Draws Support

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Backers of a proposed Wolf Bayou Dam organized Tuesday night to promote construction of the White River project 12 miles upstream from Batesville.

W. J. Arnold, Batesville, lawyer, was elected president of the group. Seventy-nine persons signed as members of the Wolf Bayou Dam Association.

The dam was first recommended in 1948 but no action was taken then. State Rep. Virgil Butler of Independence County, who attended the Tuesday meeting, said previous efforts to build the dam failed because of lack of organized support.

Congress has authorized Army Engineers to make a study of the White River Basin, including a restudy of the proposed dam.

The stock closed Monday at $63.75 a share on the New York Stock Exchange, up 62 cents a share from Friday.

Shareholders will vote on the proposed split at the company's annual meeting April 22.

THE STORY: THE stockholders meeting, which Charlie Medders feels sure will deprive him of his rich gold strike, is in progress at the bank. Charlie was elected president of the new company.

XVI
By the time Charlie emerged from the roseate visions and the enveloping warmth of brotherly love enough to become aware of what was going on, the company was formed and was taken then. State Rep. Virgil Butler of Independence County, who attended the Tuesday meeting, said previous efforts to build the dam failed because of lack of organized support.

Congress has authorized Army Engineers to make a study of the White River Basin, including a restudy of the proposed dam.

Miss Winters was reading back the names of those elected to hold office. Jones, it appeared, had been installed as vice president. Heintzleman was secretary, Rawlins was the treasurer and Ferris, of Ores Amalgamated, was general superintendent. An issue of preferred stock had been declared, of which each single share was to have a par value of $100 and they were ready now to vote as to whether or not common stock should be put on the market to finance development.

Medders, appalled, suddenly jumped to his feet. "Now just a dang minute! I dunno much about this business of stock, but—"

"I'll handle that end of it," Jones said smoothly. "All you have to do, Charles, is sit back and figure out some way to spend your profits. And that," the banker smiled, "should be occupation enough for even a man of your unbounded talent."

"Yeah. Well," Medders said, taking a long hard look at him, "I might not have got to the front row on figures but as President of this outfit I reckon I've got enough say to be heard."

"You go right ahead," Jones chuckled.

"Well, it's not goin' to cost all that much to git the ore out that we've got to come up with a stock sale to do it."

"I'm surely relieved to hear that," Rawlins said, brightening somewhat.

"Let's not put the cart before the horse. The handling of stock," Jones said, "is my department. I'm afraid you're out of order. Perhaps we had better deal with first things first." He looked around for the Board's approval.

Medders, leaning over the table, growled, "I go fer that. When you've got the stock ready to be passed out, hang your drawers in the window and we'll git together. Meetin' adjourned."

"Now see here," Jones cried, "we've had enough of your lip! You served your function when you uncovered this ore. Production—what we want and need now—requires abilities far beyond the scope, and savvy of any shirt-tail, single-blanket jackass prospector!"

Medders, too, was up on his feet, looking nervous and uncertain, half inclined toward bluster. "Just the same," he stubbornly growled, "it seems like to me a guy with 50 per cent of a company's holdings—"

"That's exactly the point. When the shares are passed out you won't have but 25, the same as Miss Storn and myself."

Medders stared. "I guess," he said, "I better straighten you out. I might be soft in the head but I ain't that soft. The only part of this find that don't belong to me is that half interest."

"Perhaps you're forgetting something," Jones, grabbing up the sheaf of papers he had clipped together, strode around his desk to shake them under Charlie's nose. "The receipted notes for those debts you run up—remember? The bank took them in to save the Company embarrassment, but you needn't imagine I'm going to absorb them."

While they stood like that, fiercely glaring at each other, Belita Storn, strangely pale in a wasp-waisted gown and feathered hat of burgundy velvet, sat twisting her hands with her eyes big as buckets.

Rawlins grinned, watching Charlie feel the turn of the screw. Even Ferris, though continuing to hold his face poker sober, must have counted those shares as good as tucked in his pocket.

Medders laughed. "Got it all figured out, eh?" He must have seen what a spot he was in, but "Go right ahead," he said, "and see where it gits you. That jezebel's been dang handsome paid for whatever time she may have put in with me!"

"I think," Jones began, "when she tells her side of it—"

But Medders, already backing off, grinned sourly. "Sure, sure... he a lot of tears fall. Like to make me powerful hard to find, but don't you worry. When you've got your mine in that 'production' you mentioned just drop me a line an' I'll come look it over. Meanwhile, I'm git-ting' outa here—see?" and he banged one hand slapping down against his pistol.

Heintzleman cringed. The banker's face turned livid. Medders openly sneered. Waving derisively he ducked through the door.

Oyster Pie A Lenten Delight

Treat your guests to this superlative oyster pie during Lent. You'll enjoy making it because it's so easy, and your friends will enjoy eating it because it's so delicious!

Start with two pie crusts, butter, flour, salt and Tabasco—the zesty liquid red pepper seasoning so indispensable when you're cooking shellfish, or any kind of fish. As for the succulent oysters, the tenderest and most delicate of sea foods, they can be fresh, frozen or canned.

The oysters steam to perfection in this pie, staying plump, moist and tender, while Tabasco adds just the right amount of piquant flavor.

Tabasco Oyster Pie

1 package pastry mix or 2 crusts
1 1/2 quarts medium oysters
Salt
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco

Prepare pastry according to package directions. Line bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate with half the pastry. Drain oysters; reserve 1/4 cup liquor. Turn oysters into pie plate; sprinkle with salt, flour and dot with butter. Combine reserved oyster liquor and Tabasco; pour over oysters. Top with remaining pastry; flute edges to seal. Cut slits in top crust to allow steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven (450°F.) 30 minutes. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Message on Overseas Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson told Democratic congressional leaders today that his foreign aid message will go to Congress Thursday.

Speaker John W. McCormack said the message will emphasize the importance of continuing the International Development Association to help underdeveloped nations help themselves.

McCormack said he reported to Johnson that congressional reaction to his poverty message

Monday had been "overwhelmingly favorable, amazingly so."

McCormack said he assured Johnson of quick action on the anti-poverty program by the House Committee on Education and Labor.

Johnson, in turn expressed complete confidence in the committee reporting out a good bill, McCormack said.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Johnson was pleased that the Senate debate on the civil rights bill had been conducted on a high-level, non-partisan basis.

Newsman reminded McCormack of some Republican criticism of the anti-poverty program as "warmed over." McCormack replied that since the

Sit-Inners Plan Prayer Service

By SY RAMSEY

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A group of integrationists planned a prayer service today after spending their first night in the gallery of the Kentucky House of Representatives as part of a sit-in and hunger strike.

The desperate move to force passage of an integration bill in days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, many Republicans have opposed almost everything.

the dying days of the legislature took state officials by surprise.

Several guards kept a loose watch Monday night while making routine Capitol rounds.

The Chamber rounds was locked after representatives adjourned but the gallery doors remained open and the upstairs lights stayed on.

The 23 biracial demonstrators — mainly ministers, housewives and students — ranged in age from 16 to 71. A few reinforcements were expected today.

The main group arrived from Louisville shortly after noon Monday and vowed to starve to death if necessary, until the legislature enacts a bill granting equal access to places of public accommodations.

That eventually appeared dis-

Paducah Set for Crest of Ohio Flood

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Paducah, vast major city along the overflowing Ohio River, prepared for a crest nearly nine feet above flood stage today but counted on its wall to prevent major damage.

Floods which began a week ago along the river, a 981-mile-long transportation link in the country's midland, caused $100 million or more in damages, took 15 lives and affected 110,000 persons.

Smithland, at the junction of the Cumberland and Ohio rivers 20 miles above Paducah, had a tough battle against the flood. Officials hoped the levees would hold, but a few homes were evacuated.

President Johnson Tuesday authorized $250,000 to Kentucky and Indiana, the first step in federal aid, to restore public facilities. Kentucky asked $4.2 million; Indiana more than $2 million. Other states hard hit include Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Missouri and Illinois.

play in Latin America as De Gaulle since his talk was on how the United States and its southern neighbors could pull together better. But it didn't go all right.

While De Gaulle did all the nice things in Mexico, Johnson didn't do them here, or at least the ambassadors didn't think so.

One reporter, who knows the ambassadors, said they were shocked and astonished at Johnson's speech.

This is how it happened. For weeks a special OAS committee had been trying to get Panama and the United States to settle their dispute over the Panama Canal Zone.

After the riots at the zone last January, Panama severed diplomatic relations with this country. Panama demanded a revision of the 1903 treaty which says the United States can control the zone and the canal indefinitely.

The night before the Johnson speech the OAS announced the two sides had agreed to sit down to discuss and negotiate their differences.

Latin-American diplomats said before the OAS committee released its announcement it had sought and got the approval of Thomas Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

U.S. officials now tell another story: that there had been no agreement, that Mann hadn't approved the announcement, that he had said he would need time to consider it, and that he consulted Johnson.

At any rate—this was Sunday night—a few hours after the announcement Republican senators denounced it. They didn't think the administration should agree to "negotiate" on the treaty. They said it looked like surrender.

A few hours after the Republicans said what they had on their minds, a so-called "high U.S. source" made a joke of the OAS announcement by saying there had been no agreement.

The next day, Monday, Johnson went to the OAS to make his speech. He had it all prepared in writing. It turned out not to be a very good speech. It was hardly more than a collection of friendly and pious statements.

Even so, if this had been all, while it might have disappointed the ambassadors it wouldn't have been enough to astonish them. Johnson proceeded to astonish them by injecting something that wasn't in the prepared speech.

He made official what the "high source" had said the night before. He said there had been no meeting of the minds with Panama.

Thus, in a talk which was supposed to be all about cooperation he (1) injected the sore subject of Panama and (2) in effect, told the OAS to its face that its special committee's announcement was all wet.

That's what one lady wrote us the other day... the very words. She had just read about Childs' 1963 results and was dumfounded that any company could be so interested in savings its customers money that it would keep only around one cent net profit on the dollar. Yet it's true. And it proves further that Childs' prices are low, in many cases the lowest prices in town. Won't you come in... shop... save... and see for yourself? We'd love to have you.

Frenchman Edges LBJ in Duel

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Score one for French President Charles de Gaulle. Big Charley, in his uniform and military cap, did all right without laying a glove on President Johnson.

In his first jostle with Johnson the Frenchman came through smelling like a rose, even though they were miles apart in their encounter, while the American President put the Latin Americans in a tizzy.

The two men had a short talk here last November after President John F. Kennedy's funeral. It wasn't a formal talk. That was supposed to come this year. But then there was some confusion about it.

Were they supposed to meet here, or where? Johnson wanted it here. De Gaulle wanted it on an island in the Caribbean. So there was no meeting.

But then the Frenchman irritated the American government by recognizing Red China and on top of it decided to visit Mexico as part of his plan for getting good will and probably business for France in Latin America.

Johnson arranged to make a major speech to Latin-American ambassadors at the Organization of American States on the very day, Monday, that De Gaulle landed in Mexico, in uniform and all.

If it went right, Johnson would get as much front-page hold, but a few homes were evacuated.

President Johnson Tuesday authorized $250,000 to Kentucky and Indiana, the first step in federal aid, to restore public facilities. Kentucky asked $4.2 million; Indiana more than $2 million. Other states hard hit include Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Missouri and Illinois.

Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf

Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf, glazed and fragrant, reflects the wonderful Southern tradition of delicious hot breads. It's typically easy to prepare, also, by forming a loaf of biscuit balls, glazing, then baking.

Treating your family to this breakfast eye-opener is easy when you prepare the biscuit dough with enriched self-rising flour, the flour with baking powder and salt already carefully blended in.

Enriched self-rising flour in Orange-Honey Bubble Loaf and other good baked products contributes important amounts of three B-vitamins and iron. Complete your menu with scrambled eggs, bacon and beverage to provide a nutritious attractive day-starter for your family.

ORANGE-HONEY BUBBLE LOAF

Orange-Honey Glaze
1 tablespoon lemon juice 1/2 cup honey
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind 1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine all ingredients in small saucepan and heat until butter or margarine is melted. Simmer about 3 minutes. Remove from heat.

Biscuit Bubbles
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour 1/4 cup shortening
2 teaspoons grated orange rind 2/3 to 3/4 cup milk

Sift flour into bowl. Stir in orange rind. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Divide dough into pieces about size of walnuts. Shape into balls. Place balls in layers in ungreased loaf pan, 4 1/2 x 8 1/2 inches. Pour Orange-Honey Glaze over all. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Let bubble loaf cool 10 minutes in pan before serving. Remove from pan and serve hot.

Makes 1 bubble loaf.

*If you don't sift or in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a 1 cup dry measure, level off then remove two level tablespoonfuls, according to USDA recommendations.

Big Exchange Plan: France and Mexico

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle proposes that France and Mexico join in a big exchange program but says it wouldn't cut into Mexican relations with the United States.

De Gaulle told a joint session of the Mexican Congress Tuesday that Latin America is forging into "the foreground of the stage of world affairs." He made clear that he wants to increase French influence in the region.

The 73-year-old French leader suggested Mexico and France begin a large-scale program of scientific, cultural and technical exchanges and become "true and good companions in the work of civilization."

"Without a doubt such a rapprochement implies that the aim of the attitude, the action, in a word the policy of Mexico City and Paris, should not only be prevented from diverging but should actually be attuned," he said.

Before Congress and at a presidential luncheon at the National Palace, De Gaulle tried to ease fears in Washington that his visit might affect the closeness of U.S.-Mexican relations.

Any special relations between Mexico and France, he said at the luncheon, are not intended "to put an end or even to diminish the relations that bind us to our neighbors."

Before Congress he spoke of "Mexico which, without in any way underestimating the fact that her massive relations with her great northern neighbor are both natural and fertile, still feels attracted toward the European countries by all kinds of affinities and, in the first place, may I dare add, attracted to my own country."

De Gaulle concluded his second busy day in Mexico by attending an elegant candlelit dinner in a Spanish setting. He, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and their wives dined on pigeon, crab salad and champagne on a gallery overlooking a patio filled with 2,000 guests.

De Gaulle and Lopez Mateos planned a third round of private talks today, followed by the signing of a joint communique. It was expected to deal mainly with commercial, cultural and possibly political ties.

De Gaulle ends his four-day state visit Thursday and will stop off at French colonies in the Caribbean before returning to France.

15 Apply for Conway School Post

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Conway School Board has had 15 applications for superintendent, board president Ray C. McNutt said Tuesday.

The Arkansas Education Association had appealed for its members not to apply for the job until a controversy over the contract of Supt. Hays Gibson was resolved.

The board first voted not to renew Gibson's contract. Then it bought the contract.

McNutt said most of the applications have come from persons within Arkansas. He said a special committee has interviewed five or six applicants.

Archie Metheny is acting superintendent.

The National Education Association's Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities is conducting an investigation into the controversy.

Liquor Ads for N.Y. Times Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times radio station, WQXR, has announced it will accept liquor commercials.

The station does not subscribe to the code of the National Association of Broadcasters, which holds that advertising of hard liquor is "not acceptable."

Tito Said Too Ill to Attend Meet

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Foreign diplomats say President Tito has a political illness that will prevent his attending the Communist summit meeting Soviet Premier Khrushchev is expected to hold in Budapest, Hungary, at the end of the month.

Tanjug, the official news agency, announced today the 71-year-old president has gone to Brioni, his island retreat off the Yugoslav coast, on the advice of his doctors for "treatment and rest."

The announcement gave no details of Tito's condition, but he has been very active this month and there has been no indication he was not feeling well.

Foreign diplomats recalled that an announcement in 1960 said Tito was suffering from lumbago, and that this subsequently prevented him from going to Moscow for a meeting of world Communist parties.

The meeting denounced the Yugoslav Communist party for revisionism.

City Manager Form Binding for 6 Years

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Under Arkansas law, a city which adopts the city manager form of government must keep it for at least six years before it can consider making another change.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett advised mayor Offie Lites of Pine Bluff on city manager election law in an opinion issued today.

Pine Bluff is contemplating a change from mayor council to city manager government. Petitions seeking a city manager election have been filed with Lites and Lites has said he will set an election date.

The attorney general's opinion told Lites that six years after the first city manager board takes office the petitions can be

Corn Batter Cakes

Here's an extra special Sunday brunch menu — crisp hot Corn Batter Cakes with Cheese-Ham Sauce, crisp relishes and beverage. The family will be delighted with this tasty start in the morning that's both breakfast and lunch combined.

Enriched self-rising corn meal really simplifies batter cake preparation. The baking powder and salt are already added to the corn meal, so all you need add is an egg, shortening and milk for perfect batter cakes every time.

Everyone is sure to ask for seconds of Corn Batter Cakes and with good reason. Besides being good eating, this brunch meal is outstandingly nutritious. The enriched self-rising corn meal alone is an excellent source of calcium, iron and three essential B-vitamins — thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

Add cheese and ham, stirring until cheese is melted. In separate bowl, combine egg, shortening or oil and milk. Add corn meal and mix until blended. Pour about 1/2 cup of batter for each batter cake onto lightly greased griddle. Bake until golden brown. Serve hot topped with Cheese-Ham Sauce. Makes 8 to 10 batter cakes (about 4 servings).

Asparagus Glamorizes Molded Salad

If your family likes asparagus, they will love this creamy-smooth molded salad. It's called a Molded Souffle Salad because it has the light airiness generally associated with souffles. Actually, it is a delightful blend of asparagus and cream cheese with enough crunchy celery for texture appeal.

The canned cut green asparagus you use for this salad is as handy as your cupboard shelf. The tender, plump, delicately flavored pieces are a bright color contrast to the creamy white salad base.

You can make your salad ahead, ready for unmolding just before you serve dinner. And wouldn't this salad be a handsome addition to a buffet table? Pretty it up with canned green asparagus spears and hard cooked egg slices arranged in a flower pattern.

- | | |
|---|--|
| Molded Souffle Salad | |
| One 10 1/2-oz. can cream of asparagus soup, undiluted | One 8-oz. package cream cheese, softened |
| 1 tablespoon lemon juice | 1 cup dairy sour cream |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | One 10 1/2-oz. can cut green asparagus spears, drained |
| 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatine | 1/2 cup chopped celery |
| 1/4 cup cold water | |

Heat soup in medium-sized saucepan. Stir in lemon juice, salt and gelatine which has been softened in cold water. Beat in cream cheese and sour cream. Chill until partially set. Fold in remaining ingredients; pour into an oiled 1-quart loaf mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with canned whole asparagus spears and hard cooked egg slices, if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Parity Is Still Goal for Farm

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman says the goal of parity for agriculture—a pledge of Democrats ever since the days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt—remains an object of the Johnson Administration.

Furthermore, he says, President Johnson's support for this farm income concept will make the President a strong candidate in the November presidential election.

Freeman expressed these views when asked by newsmen to comment on remarks made by President James G. Patton before the convention of his National Farmers Union at St. Paul Monday night. Patton indicated that he was disturbed about lack of support for the parity goal.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices and incomes declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

"What has happened to this yardstick to measure farmer

Shamrocks Mark Day of St. Pat.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Irish Ambassador Thomas J. Kiernan presented St. Patrick's Day gifts to President Johnson and Mrs. John F. Kennedy and planted shamrocks on the late President Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

The ambassador called at the White House to give Johnson a prosperity?" asked Patton, who long has been closely identified with democratic administrations and candidates.

"Did we see it mentioned in President Johnson's agricultural message? No. Do we read about it in Agriculture Department press releases and speeches? No. Do we hear about it from members of Congress — especially members of the agriculture committees? No. We cannot ignore it," Patton said.

Freeman, whose association with Patton on farm policy has been a close one, said he shared the farm leader's dissatisfaction with the farm price and income situation.

"Mr. Patton wants more farm income than we have been able to bring about," the secretary said. "But we have accomplished some increase in gross farm income and in the per capita income of the farm population. What is important is parity of farm income. The parity standard for farm prices is less important than it used to be."

In this connection, farm prices ended 1963 at 78 per cent of the parity price goal. But farm income, reflecting government farm payments, was at 83 per cent of parity of income, Freeman said.

handmade Waterford crystal bowl decorated with shamrocks. It was engraved with Johnson's initials.

The ambassador drove earlier to the home of Mrs. Kennedy. Then he joined her and the late president's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a pilgrimage to the Kennedy grave.

A year ago, Kiernan presented Kennedy with a Waterford vase engraved with a picture of James Hoban, architect of the White House, and an etching of the early White House. "I told him last year," the ambassador told reporters, "I would bring him a companion piece this year."

That was the gift to Mrs. Kennedy. Kiernan said it is engraved with a likeness of Commodore John Barry, of County Wexford, the ancestral home of the Kennedy family. Barry was known there as the father of the American Navy. The vase also depicts Barry's frigate, Alliance, Kiernan said.

At the Kennedy grave, the ambassador planted shamrocks from the garden of the Irish presidential residence in Dublin. He said that at the time of the Kennedy funeral, he had arranged with President Eamon De Valera to grow the shamrocks and they were delivered here a fortnight ago.

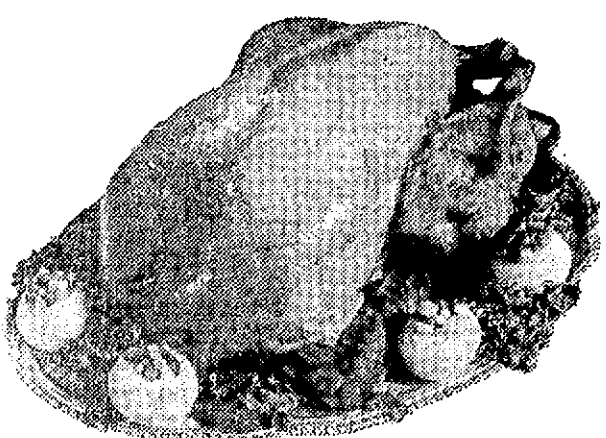

The shamrocks will become part of the sod at the Kennedy grave, Kiernan said. They were planted in the form of a cross, he said, and Mrs. Kennedy is arranging for four more pots of shamrocks to be planted to form a circle around the cross.

This will make a Celtic cross, the ambassador said, with the circle standing for eternity and the eternal life that comes from the cross.

Mrs. Kennedy, he said, placed on the grave Tuesday a shamrock corsage he had given her earlier at her residence.

Ruby Takes His Verdict With Calm

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP)—At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, when jury foreman Max E. Causey neatly printed the letters "DEATH" with a ball point pen on the blank provided, Jack Ruby sat impassively in his jail cell.

Neither Ruby nor anyone else outside the jury deliberation room knew whether the 52-year-old former strip joint operator had been found legally guilty or innocent of the slaying of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Less than an hour later, Ruby and the world heard Judge Joe B. Brown speak the words "and assess the penalty at death." Courtroom observers noted that the defendant remained outwardly impassive.

Jack L. Ruby continues to appear impassive as the hours, and the days, slip by him in jail.

He plays dominoes and cards by himself. He eats when food is served and shaves with a double-edged razor and takes a shower when so directed.

Only Jack Ruby knows the Ruby thoughts.

"Hi, Phil, how are you today," Ruby greets defense lawyer Phil Burleson. The lawyer visits almost daily.

Burleson said Ruby has asked for nothing special since the verdict and has not requested to see anyone but his lawyers and relatives.

"I've talked with him about the appeal and tried to make him understand that it will take time," the Dallas attorney commented. "Jack seems to feel confident that he will get a fair review."

Burleson said Ruby is in good health. His mental framework "is as good as can be expected under the circumstances."

Chief jailer E. L. Holman said Ruby seems calmer now than when he was being taken to and from the courtroom twice daily during the trial.

"He's doing all right," Holman says. "He doesn't give us any trouble. He never has."

Ruby has three adjoining cells to himself. A walking area 12x25 feet fronts on the cell tier. It is here that Ruby plays his lone games of dominoes and cards on a bare table.

Army Mum on Cassius Clay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army declined today to confirm or deny a report that heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has failed a second mental test for Army induction.

The Washington Post said it had learned Clay got a low

He's a Big Time Reader at Age of 4

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Paul Jones Jr. is a confirmed newspaper reader at the age of 4.

He reads encyclopedias from time to time, magazines and books, but prefers the newspaper. His parents say he frequently reads the newspaper through, and remembers most of what he has read.

"Yes, he definitely can read and understands what he is reading—within the realm of his experience," reported Linda Smart, a graduate assistant at Michigan State University's College of Education, who checked into the child prodigy.

His mother was particularly anxious to have him read well for a visiting newsmen. Paul wanted to ride his new bike.

The boy would read a few sentences at a time, then re-score on the aptitude test he took in the second examination in Louisville on March 13. It added that Clay had been notified.

The boxer's draft board in Louisville said it did not know Clay's status.

New Rumor as to Flyers' Fate

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army ambulance made a trip into Communist East Germany today. There was speculation here the trip has some connection with the injured U.S. Air Force officer in a Russian military hospital at Magdeburg.

Army and Air Force spokesmen declined comment on the purpose of the trip.

A possibility was that medical supplies or Red Cross welfare items were taken to the hospital for the injured officer, 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch of Detroit, one of three U.S. airmen shot down in East Germany March 10.

Governors Heard on Tobacco

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three governors of top tobacco states provided the finale today to a three-day showcase of arguments over federal plans to brand cigarettes with a health peep his plea to be allowed to go out and play.

Finally, he sat on the floor and crossed his arms: "I'm takin' the Fifth Amendment," he said.

Winthrop Given Even Chance

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Results of a poll conducted last Saturday show Winthrop Rockefeller has an even chance of carrying Conway County in a race for governor, Warren Lieblong said today.

Lieblong, of Pine Bluff, is chairman of the Draft Rockefeller for Governor Committee.

He said 2,237 were polled and 1,129 said they would vote for Rockefeller if he runs. Lieblong said this represented 50.5 per cent of those who consented to answer questions by Republican pollsters.

Lieblong earlier had said a poll of Clark County showed 51 per cent of those questioned said they would vote for Rockefeller.

Lieblong said 503 people in Conway county said they would not support Rockefeller. 429 said they were undecided and 176 declined to answer. Conway County has 8,257 qualified voters for the primaries this year, the state auditor's office said.

Lieblong said some voters told his pollsters that they would support Gov. Orval E. Faubus if he is the Democratic nominee for governor, but would support Rockefeller if some other Democrat ran.

Of the 2,237 questioned, 1,087 said they would register as Democrats if party affiliation were required in voter registration, Lieblong said. He said 610 said they would register as Republicans, 382 as independents and 178 were undecided.

Lieblong said similar surveys have been requested by Republican groups in Logan, Johnson, Madison and Nevada counties.

He said polls are being taken now in Sevier and Union counties in the evenings over a two-week period.

Weather Interrupts Flight

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bad weather cost Joan Merriam a night's sleep as she headed for New Orleans today on the second leg of her round-the-world flight.

She took off from Tucson International Airport at 2:30 a.m. MST.

Miss Merriam, 27, a blonde test pilot from Long Beach, Calif., began her trip Tuesday in Oakland, Calif., where she plans to touch down again April 14 after completing her flight.

She is following the route mapped out by the late Amelia Earhart in 1937. Before taking off this morning, Miss Merriam said, "I just want to complete a page of history."

Miss Merriam had planned to spend the night in Tucson and take off shortly after daybreak. But Tuesday night the weather closed in on her proposed route. She did some hasty figuring and changed her route.

So far she hasn't had a wink of sleep.

Miss Merriam hopes to become the first woman to fly around the world alone.

Miss Earhart vanished over the Pacific during a world flight in 1937.

"Miss Merriam" is the flying name of the diminutive blonde. She is the wife of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Marvin G. Smith Jr., who helped her plan the flight for the past 16 months.

warning.

First on stage was Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina, followed by Gov. Albertus A. Harrison Jr., of Virginia and Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky.

All faced the Federal Trade Commission on the last day of hearings over the FTC's proposals to label cigarette packages and advertisements with warnings of health hazard.

Harrison urged the FTC to "proceed with the utmost caution."

The Virginian said he spoke with awareness of evidence "that immoderate cigarette smoking may be detrimental to health, but with equal awareness that this evidence is not conclusive."

"If we simply label the cigarette pack and walk away from the problem," Sanford declared, "we are fooling ourselves and we are missing a great opportunity."

Sanford, whose state leads the nation in the production of flue-cured tobacco and cigarettes, said, "The truth of the matter is that we have never begun a massive research attack on the cause and cure of cancer. This is long overdue. The problem is not cigarette smoking alone; it is the cause and cure of cancer."

He added that "we sincerely doubt that smoking in moderation causes any harm." He called for the expenditure of "a substantial part" of the $2 billion in federal tobacco revenues for research into all forms of cancer.

Camden and Paper Co. Seek Dock

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—The Camden Port Authority, the city administration and the Ouachita River Valley Association are negotiating with International Paper Co. on location of a new Ouachita River dock and warehouse east of the city where International now has its dock.

The federal government has approved a $460,000 loan to help the city build a dock and warehouse to pave the way for more industry and establish itself as a regional distribution center when the Ouachita finally gets a nine-foot channel.

The river now has a six-foot navigation channel which International and some other firms use for hauling freight.

The federal loan was announced Monday. Other funds will be added and construction of the port will begin as soon as negotiations are completed with International said H. K. Thatcher, executive vice president of the Ouachita River Valley Association.

The new facilities will have a high and low dock with a minimum overall length of 400 feet and a warehouse with 50,000 square feet.

There will be sufficient grounds to enable the project to expand three times the original capacity.

There also will be some 10 to 15 acres of outside storage yard and sufficient adjacent land to accommodate new industries which will want to locate near the dock and warehouse.

"With the construction of the new dock and warehouse facilities at the headwaters of navigation on the Ouachita River, Camden will be able to regain its position as a leading commercial distribution center in South Arkansas," Thatcher said.

Plans call for a nine-foot channel from Camden to the junction of the Ouachita and Mississippi Rivers in Louisiana.

There has been no announcement of total cost of Camden's new port.
